Bottema Loses Zoning Case For Apartment

The petition of M. W. Bottema for rezoning of a piece of property on School House road to permit him to make the house into two apartments has been denied by the Mokena zoning board of appeals and the village board has concurred in the recommendation.

To Hear ICRR Detective

The Mokena Lions have invited James Vinson, Illinois Central Railroad detective as a guest speaker for their Oct. 1 session at 7 p.m. The Windshield Wash committee announced that the recent activity netted $175.

The November session will be a father-son dinner.

live on one floor and put an apartment on the other.

The petitions of Norman Olson and Clarence Rourke, and Frank Grey to re-classify their properties on the east side of Wolf road adjacent to the Park and Shop food market property from residential to business have been approved by the village board and an ordinance covering the change was adopted.

A complaint that the storm tile along W. 192nd st. in the 11500 block was in need of repair was referred to Ralph Yunker, village engineer.

The village board thru its attorney, Ronald Galowich, has given Louis Sliwa, who owns the property housing the post office, final notice to replace the sidewalk in front of the building so it conforms with the sidewalk grade in the remainder of the block. If he does not build the walk voluntarily, he was informed, the board will proceed under the special assessment ordinance. This would cost Sliwa considerably more than if he had the work done himself, he was warned.

The green light was given Robert Fredin to proceed with construction of two multiple dwelling units on the west side of Wolf rd. north of Front st.

The fifth will carry Ridgeland Ave. over the Moline Expressway, 3/4th mile south of Tinley Park, and includes bituminous concrete surfaced approaches on Ridgeland.

Among the $25 million in projects for which bids will be opened in the eighth and final letting for 1964, according to Director of Public Works Francis S. Lorenz, are also the following south suburban ones:

Mokena Man Killed In Train Crash Sunday

An open switch may have led to the death of a Mokena man, Russell Reeves, who died in a head-on passenger train crash at Montgomery, Ill., near Aurora just before midnight Sunday.

An investigation Monday reported that the Burlington train in which the Burlington fireman and engineer were killed apparently went through a switch onto the side track where the Rock Island Train on which Reeves was engineer, was standing.

A witness said the Rock Island engine jumped about 20 feet in the air and came down in a cloud of dust on top of the Burlington Ak-Sar-Ben Zephyr and American Royal Zephyr. More than 40 of the passengers of the 360 on the two trains were injured, but only five were still in the hospital Tuesday.

The Rock Island train usually did not use the Burlington tracks but a Rock Island bridge at Joliet was jammed and could not be used, requiring the alternate route.

Russell Reeves, 62, of 114 Front st., Mokena, died early Monday morning at Aurora, Ill.

He was born June 24, 1902 in Morris, Ill., and had lived in Mokena the past 8 years.

He was a member of the D.A.R.E., a railroad organization. He worked for the Rock Island 43 years.

Survived by his wife Matilda, nee Tieman; two daughters, Mrs. Colette Tecinka of Lyons, Ill., and Phyllis Fitzgerald of New Lenox; two sisters, Mrs. Anna Mae Starka and Miss Louise Reeves, both of Chicago; two brothers, Walter and Charles, both of Chicago and 8 grandchildren.

Burial Thursday, Oct. 1 at 3 p.m. from Hirsch Memorial Chapel, Tinley Park. Interment at Hills of Rest, Joliet.

Plan Seminar On Orange Ballot At Mokena Monday

Voters in the general election Nov. 3 are scheduled to receive a fistful of ballots in Illinois and the largest of the lot will be a huge orange colored affair carrying the names of 236 candidates for the state house of representatives.

There are 118 Republican candidates and the same number of Democrats that appear on this ballot. There are 277 to be elected to the lower house of the Illinois general assembly.

The legislature passed a reapportionment bill under which the legislators would have been elected by district, as in former years, but Mayor Daley of Chicago opposed it because of changes it would have made in some Chicago districts, it was stated at the time, and Gov. Kerner vetoed the measure when a special session of the legislature failed to agree upon a bill the only thing left was to have the candidates for the legislature run at large in the state.

There has been considerable talk about the special ballot for assembly candidates and in an effort to clarify the situation as far as local voters are concerned the Mokena Republican Women's club is to conduct a seminar on the subject next Monday night, Oct. 5, in the V.F.W. hall on Wolf road.

This discussion has the sanction of the Will county Republican central committee and the women's group is to be assisted by the Northern Frankfort Township Republican Men's club.

A three-man panel will discuss the background and issues involved. The panel, made up of State Representative Meade Baltz, of Joliet, John Erlenborn, of DuPage county, now a candidate for congress but who has had considerable service in the Illinois general assembly, Robert Blair, attorney and a candidate for the legislature. The panel will be introduced by Merle Needham, of Mokena, president of the Republican Men's club. Mr. Needham also will act as master of ceremonies. Mrs. Ernest Benson, president of the Women's Republican club is to preside.

Following the discussion questions from the floor will be answered.

This will be the first such seminar to be conducted in Will county but they have been held in many other sections as a means of informing the voters so they will understand all the ramifications, it was explained. It is said that unless one is informed it is easy to void this ballot.

The public is urged by the sponsors to attend this meeting. In the opinion of those conducting these seminars about the state the future of Illinois is at stake.

Kruzich Takes Post As Asst. Supt. At L-W

Joe Kruzich, an administrative assistant on the Lincoln-Way staff, has been named to the first assistant's position. The vacancy occurred as the result of Donald D'Amico's recent resignation following his employment on the Joliet elementary school staff.

Mr. Kruzich was one of the original staff members, being first employed as chairman of the industrial arts department. His work in helping to organize Industrial Arts clubs for the boys in the various high schools became well known throughout the state. During this Presently Kruzich has been in charge of the athletic department, providing the direction and leadership for the coaches and athletic teams.

JOE KRUZICH

Kruzich is also serving as president of the Suburban High School Deans' Association. He graduated from Eastern Illinois university and from the University of Illinois where he majored in school administration.

Supt. A. Hunter Chapman reported that no additional person would be added to the staff at this time. Additional assignments would be given to present staff members as the need arose.

Sleeping Sickness Rumor

False rumors have been flying in this area that a young girl from Arbury Hills recently died suddenly of "sleeping sickness". After consulting with her doctor, this newspaper has been told that she did not die of the recently epidemic "St. Louis Encephalitis" which has broken out in Illinois, and is spread by mosquitos.

The doctor said that she did not die of any kind of contagious epidemic disease, but asked that the specific nature of her illness be unpublicized at the request of the family.

period, two of his students, Ron Fredin and Al Waldvogel, became state presidents, representing all the organized high school clubs.

Kruzich is well remembered for his successful basketball teams over a three year period and coached the only team to receive Southwest Suburban conference honors.

Four years ago Kruzich was promoted to administrative assistant, working directly under the superintendent and being chiefly responsible for the nationally recognized program in the student operation of study halls. Lincoln-Way is the only known high school with all study halls completely operated and disciplined by students. This operation actually saves the taxpayers approximately $54,000 in teacher's salaries, it was explained.

Explain Tuition Payments For Kindergarten Pupils

MRS. EDWARD HOVI
Telephone: 479-5740
The Arbury Hills Kindergarten Organization wishes to clear up any possible confusion concerning the payment of the monthly tuition for the children in the kindergarten class at school.

The tuition is due on the first day of each month, and must be paid by the tenth day of the month. After the ten-day grace period there will be a penalty attached. The tuition is to be paid to the treasurer, Mrs. Richard Boothe of 9501 West Elm Avenue, NOT to Mrs. Richert the kindergarten teacher.

The secretary's book of the Arbury Hills Baby Sitters Cooperative changed hands yesterday, Wednesday, Sept. 30. Mrs. Donald Munday will have the book for the next month, and any member needing a baby sitter should contact Mrs. Munday at 479-5948 at least 24 hours in advance of the date needed.

Any mothers in Arbury Hills who would be interested in further information about the group may call Mrs. Munday at the above number.

The Junior Girl Scouts of troop number 103 are planning their first hike of the new term on Saturday, Oct. 3.

The girls will hike to Mokena Park where they will cook part of their lunch and also eat the portion of the lunch which they had carried. The girls will be provided with transportation home for this first hike, since some of the girls have never been on a hike before.

The scouts are expected to bring their knapsacks and dunking bags, and should wear slacks and head scarfs and carry sweaters and rain-gear if the weather should be threatening.

The Summit Hill Cub Scout Troop number 10 held their organizational meeting at the school on Friday evening, Sept. 18. There was a sign-up of new boys and the introduction of the personnel who would work with the boys for this year.

The youngsters were told that they would be informed about the name of their particular Den Mother and at what time and day of the week the Den Meetings would be held.

There are five dens in Arbury Hills this year with Mrs. Lloyd Klein of 9418 West Willow Lane having Den number 1; Mrs. Joan DeVries of 9509 West Willow Lane having Den number 2; Mrs. Bessie Lillvik of 9509 West Willow Lane with Den number 3; Mrs. Claude Hart of 19408 South Beechnut Drive with Den number 4; and Mrs. John Cumbee of 9519 West Birch Avenue having Den 5.

The Den meetings are to be held once each week at the home of the Den Mother and the Pack Meetings are to be held once each month on the last Friday of the month at the school.

It is essential that each boy be accompanied by at least one parent to each of the Pack meetings, but parental attendance is not necessary at the weekly den meetings.

The First Nighters will hold their meeting at the home of Mrs. Joseph Farnham of 9514 West Rosewood Lane tonight, Thursday, Oct. 1, at 8 p.m.

The Arbury Hills Boys Baseball League is collecting S & H Trading Stamps in order to obtain the uniforms for the boys for this coming season. It is being asked that one book from each family would be donated to the cause and that that would be sufficient for the number of boys anticipated.

If you are willing to contribute either a complete book or loose stamps to the collection, please contact Jordan Marzano at 479-9263 or bring the stamps to his home at 9305 West Magnolia.

The October meeting of the Summit Hill Parent-Teacher Group will be held at the school Thursday, Oct. 8, at 8 p.m. There is a movie scheduled to be shown concerning mental health.

The time is drawing close for the PTG Fun Fair which will be held at the school on Saturday, Oct. 17, hold this date open on your calendar for a good family outing day.

The Arbury Hills Civic Association held their first meeting of the new term with the usual show of apathy on the part of the residents. Since there was an insufficient number present for a quorum, the president, Dick Heim convened the meeting as a board of directors meeting, so that the necessary business could be transacted.

A treasurer's report was given by the president in the absence of the treasurer. There was a total of $333.00 collected in memberships during the concentrated drive last spring and $32.00 collected in donations earmarked for legal fees to check on the water situation. There was $40.00 paid to date in legal fees, and no additional legal fees are at the present time pending.

A report was also given on the present set up concerning the paving of the unpaved roads in Arbury Hills. A representative, Joe Arcuri, was sent by the Civic Association to the last Frankfort Township meeting held in Mokena.

The Civic Association has drafted a letter and sent it to the Federal Housing Authority to state its protest of the manner in which the promise of paved roads has not been honored.

The Civic Association voted to send a bouquet to Mrs. Glenn Homer at the Christ Community hospital in Evergreen Park, because she had been involved in an accident at work in which her hand has been severely damaged.

It was also voted to donate $15 to the Arbury Achievers, the local 4-H Club, since the Civic Association had planned to repaint the street signs and the house numbers. The 4-H Club has done the work instead.

The date of the regular children's Christmas party was tentatively set for Saturday afternoon, Dec. 19 at the school, pending the approval of the date by the superintendent of the school, Mr. H. James Wrath.

A committee was set up to handle the necessary arrangements. Included in the committee were all the members of the Board of Directors, with the able assistance of Mrs. Joseph Mangan.

Ladies please be prepared for the telephone request for homemade cookies for the party as was done for the party last year.

The president also brought up the idea of having the Civic Association become a dormant organization, until such time as there is an active need for it. This would mean that the organizational charter would be maintained, but meetings would be called on an irregular basis as they should become necessary, and not on a regularly scheduled basis, as is the case now.

There has been insufficient attendance at the meetings for some time now to warrant the continued holding of regular meetings.

The question is to be brought up at the next regular meeting to be held at the school on the fourth Tuesday of November.

There will, however, be a combined Board of Directors and Christmas party committee meeting held at the home of Mrs. Edward Hovi at 9448 West Hickory street on Tuesday evening, Nov. 3, at 8 p.m.

Scranton To Visit Here For GOP

Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania will be in Will County Thursday, Oct. 8, to campaign for Senator Barry Goldwater for President, and Charles H. Percy for Governor, on the Republican ticket.

Gov. Scranton, who will be accompanied by his wife, will arrive in Joliet on the evening of Oct. 8 to attend a reception for them which will be in the form of a GOP Polka Party. The Polka Party will be held at D'Amico's 214, beginning at 8:30 p.m., with music provided by Zee's Orchestra.

The visit to Will County by Governor and Mrs. Scranton is part of a schedule being maintained by the Pennsylvania Governor in support of the Republican ticket. He is coming to Illinois at the request of both Senator Goldwater and Mr. Percy.

Hisako And Hideko Busy At Lincoln-Way

Lincolnwood

MRS. DELORES ANDERSON

Telephone: 485-3651

by MARGIE OLSON

Chako and Hideko have arrived from Japan. Who are Chako and Hideko? Chako (chah - koh) is Hisako Iwamura, Lincoln-Way High School's foreign exchange student from Kasamatu, a suburb of the city of Gifu in Japan. Hideko (hhe-day-koh) is the name given to Margie Olson by one of her Japanese friends. Hideko spent two months in Japan as the representative of Lincoln-Way under the Lions International Youth Exchange program. As the girls have been in the United States for about five weeks, they have overcome their homesicknesses and have settled down to the pattern of life of a senior in high school.

Chako is working hard at Lincoln-Way. She has the double job of studying in a foreign language. At present, she is studying U. S. History, English, music, Physical Education, and mathematics.

History is somewhat difficult, since it is the history of a foreign country (although Chako studied about the Supreme Court in her English class in Japan), but she experiences little difficulty in understanding the historic films shown in the class.

Chako is reportedly doing very well in her English class, which is second year English. She can understand well, and her understanding improves daily.

A hard-working alto in the mixed chorus, Chako enjoys singing and laughs with her friends at the jokes of her director, Mr. Tom Olson.

Chako expressed the opinion that American calisthenics are a bit more difficult than Japanese. She is now studying archery, a sport not taught in her Japanese high school.

In Japan, Chako was studying calculus, so when she came to Lincoln-Way, she enrolled in the College Prep Math III course. She is now in an honors class, and she said that this math is different from any she has ever studied.

Attending an American high school is much easier for Hideko, as she speaks and understands English very well. She is enrolled in the honors class of senior English, chemistry, girls' glee, Typing I, Spanish II, and physical education.

Chako has much to teach the American people, but for a few months, she will be preoccupied with observing and learning about America. Hideko, on the other hand, has spent two short months observing Japan, and is eager to tell about it. She has tried to learn much, and has brought back countless memories and many souvenirs.

Both girls visited a meeting of the Foreign Exchange committee of Lincoln-Way. At this meeting, Chako was introduced to the committee by her American sister, Pam Petnuch. Pam expressed her gratitude and that of her family for being allowed to receive Chako in her home. Hideko told the committee a little of her impressions of Japan, and also said a deep thank-you for her unbelievable trip. The committee then elected new officers: Mr. Grant Geuther, president; Mrs. Jane Bills, secretary; and Mr. J. Lashmet, Faculty Administration Coordinator. The committee unanimously voted Mr. Donald J. D'Amico, retiring Faculty Administration coordinator, an ex-officio member. It is the task of this committee to choose Hideko's successor, which job will begin in October.

This writer hopes that every member of the junior class at Lincoln-Way realizes what a great opportunity is being placed before him. The riches derived from a summer in a faraway land, with new friends and families, are uncountable upon earth, and priceless.

Want Equal Chance At HS Senior Pictures

Charging that some photographic firms have created a monopoly in the making of portraits of seniors in some of the public high schools, the Professional Photographers Association of Northern Illinois is making a fight to break up the alleged practice.

According to W. H. Edwards, of Sycamore, executive manager of the photographers group, no one should be selling photographs on school property. He bases the assertion on an opinion issued by N. E. Hutton, legal advisor to Ray Page, state superintendent of public instruction.

He quotes the following excerpt from this opinion:

"... it seems to be well settled as a matter of practice that school property may not be used to advertise or solicit for a private purpose. . . We do not believe that a school district has the power to permit commercial photographers to use school property and school time to photograph students, to sell them the photographs, and collect their money. We are also very doubtful whether it is within the province of a school board to enter into a contract with any photographer to take the pictures of all the students or any particular class. . ."

Mr. Edwards would have the taking of senior pictures open to all photographers, to allow the student to make his own choice. All the school needs to do, he stated, is indicate headsizes, deadline and background. There is a uniform print-grade chart, he added, that the school and photographers may obtain thru the Association.

"A practice has been established in recent years in some schools," Edwards said, "of having all seniors photographed by a designated photographer and then having that photographer make so called free pictures of underclassmen, faculty members and activities. Since the senior usually pays the only money that is spent, he is paying for these 'free' pictures by paying inflated prices or getting lower quality portraits."

Aux. Police Have Dance At Joliet

The Will County Auxiliary Police held their regular meeting along with fun night for guests and members and their wives at the Ingalls park community center at Joliet.

Entertainment and music was provided by member Placid Rubalcane and friends of Romeoville.

Refreshments were served and cakes and pies were auctioned.

A shot gun and gun case went to Donald Wilda of New Lenox as a prize.

On Saturday, Oct. 3, all members with their wives and families are invited to a picnic at Cecil Carls quarter horse farm, 7 miles north of Plainfield on Rt. 59. Weather permitting, it will begin at noon.

Hay rides will be available for the children, games will be played and an exhibition of cutting horses will be seen.

Bring your own food, drink and picnic supplies.

Double Talk On I-80--

According to news dispatches from Springfield last week the state highway department is to take bids Oct. 9 on some $25-million worth of road construction and related projects. Included in the list, according to Francis S. Lorenz, public works director, will be bids on Interstate Highway 80 in Will and Cook counties.

Either this is where we came in or there is some error--either in the dispatches of last week or those of a couple of weeks ago, or it could be that it is the fast double-shuffle.

According to a communication received a couple of weeks ago the state apparently had given the nod to bids on two projects that are to be bid on Oct. 9.

One of these is subway structure where I-80 will pass under the New York Central tracks east of Joliet and the other project is for two grade separations over Hickory creek, the Rock Island tracks and U.S. 30 near Providence high school, east of Gougar rd.

These projects supposedly were included in the $45,000,000 contract letting of Sept. 9. The names of the low bidders were released at that time and there was nothing to indicate that they did not get the contracts.

That is, there was nothing until last week when the same jobs were included in the letting for Oct. 9.

Whether anything definite will materialize on Oct. 9 is something we cannot say at this time. It may be that Mr. Lorenz is prepared to fight it out in delaying FAI-80 if it takes all winter.

It is no secret that Mayor Daley of Chicago has been grabbing all funds that he can lay his hands on to build expressways in Chicago. He wants to get the link of the Southwest highway between Wolf road and Dan Ryan expressway completed by Oct. 30--before election.

Mayor Daley is like Lola--whatever it is he wants he gets, as long as his man is in the governor's chair and the governor's man is the head of the highway department.

It is a heavy blow to the southwest suburbs that Mayor Daley is not interested in benefitting the suburbs.

Completing the missing link of I-80 between Hazel Crest and the eastern limits of Joliet is of vital importance to the economy, not only of the area but the nation. But endeavoring to convince Mayor Daley and Governor Kerner of this fact appears to be a losing battle.

Whether contracts will be let for the grade separations spoken of above is something on which we would not care to hazard a guess. Frankly, if Mr. Lorenz and Governor Kerner were to assure us that work would be started on I-80 this fall, next spring, or next summer, we would be skeptical until we actually saw work begin.

We have been told by the state department of highways that the link between Joliet and Hazel Crest would be completed by the end of 1964, that the superstructures for the grade separations and the grading for the expressway would be finished in 1963.

Only October, November and December are left in 1964 and not only haven't the superstructures or the grading been done but as far as we can learn the right-of-way hasn't been acquired. It is safe to say that I-80 will not be completed in 1964.

In the past couple of weeks business people and officers of communities along the "missing link" have been urging action on I-80. They have been told that the only way they will be able to get any is to apply pressure.

Perhaps one way to get pressure is to write letters to the governor, to your state representatives and senators. If they see that enough individuals are interested sufficiently to take the time to write them about the matter, it is possible that you may get action.

We hope that something can be done to promote I-80. It is certainly needed if the area is to develop.

Where's The White Horse?--

Everyone concerned with the future of the United States as a republic no doubt were disturbed by dispatches from Washington that appeared in last Friday's newspapers.

Many not only found the news disturbing, it was also frightening.

The dispatches told of the state department directing its field agents thruout the nation to destroy their records containing data on government security risks.

The directive ordered state department security agents to but their records by Oct. 1. This directive was dated Aug. 28 so it can be assumed that by now it has been put into effect. Whether the delay in public announcement of the decree is part of the "news management" program at Washington has not been disclosed.

The security agents of the state department investigate its employees and would-be employees to determine if they are loyal to the United States, whether they have communist connections, or whether they are addicted to alcohol, drugs or perversion, which would make them potential security risks. The agents also investigate passport frauds.

The reports ordered destroyed include not only those forwarded to Washington but also what agents call "raw files, which contain data useful in subsequent investigations such as names of possible witnesses and leads to subversive activities.

In the future a field agent will receive only such information as the office of security at Washington may choose to send.

It is no secret that persons favoring communism have held responsible posts in the state department and in other departments of the government as well.

The decision of the state department to handcuff their security agents could very well be aped by other governmental bureaus and departments.

There are too many left wingers in government service now whose loyalties are questionable. It is a sorry thing to make it easier for them to undermine our system. Such ways lead to dictatorship.

By Glenn Logan

ONCE UPON A TIME one could find a bit of peace and quiet in the country. Those were the days when a person suffering from city nerves and tensions could hie himself to open country for a spot of rest and freedom from the staccato pace of progress.

Now don't get us wrong. Progress is a great thing. It is just that it is so overwhelming at times. There is no place safe from it.

Progress seems to be everywhere these days. Even far off places usually described as primitive and backward have progress now and natives who formerly enjoyed tribal wars in which the bow, knife, spear and club comprised a sufficient arsenal have now taken up the machine gun and bombs and kill wholesale, in a thoroly progressive, efficient manner.

Any day now I expect to hear that some progressive, forward looking organization with a helping hand complex ... a government bureau, of course -- will induce the natives of jungle countries to add flame throwers to their weapon stock and utilize them to burn off the vegetation as well as their enemies. If they keep the jungle burned off they could till the land and plant and cultivate the crops.

That they might prefer the jungle to cleared places and had little appetite for the foods they raising would have nothing to do with the situation. The bureau boys would have an opportunity to spend money, the machinery manufacturers would have more territory for their wares, and progress would be served.

BUT GETTING BACK to the U. S. of A. we read in recent publicity releases that progress has reached another milestone on the farm.

For sometime now the farmer has been at a disadvantage in competing against other manufacturers, processors and retailers for the goodwill of the public because most farmers are unable to afford the services of ultra progressive accounting firms. You have seen the results. The manufacturers, the retail chains, come out with page ads all over the country showing their profits to be some minute fraction of a cent on each of the dollars they have taken in.

Well, if the manufacturer, or the processor, or the retailer is practically losing money on something to eat or wear and yet you are paying a whacking big price for same, as these ads infer, the only one left to blame is the guy that produces the stuff--the farmer.

If the farmer were able to come out with figures showing how small a percentage his profits run -- some farmers say that if they included cost of their time it would probably do it -- they too could run ads to clear themselves of any blame for increased living costs.

Well, now, maybe the farmer has a chance -- thanks to progress.

From now on the farmer's only worries will be weather and the directives of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. Eventually someone may get around to inventing instant rain or instant sunshine but until some method is devised to get rid of bureaucrats government controls will hang on.

GETTING BUREAUCRATS off our necks would be progress indeed.

Meanwhile, the publicity releases say, computers are now an important factor in farming. What can computers do for farming? They don't pull a plow or a combine but -- so the experts say -- they can tell a farmer whether to rent or buy the equipment and whether the equipment is too large or too small for the job. Here's what one farm management advisor says about it:

"We will have a story of farm enterprise information and a set of guidelines for farm decision - making by computer. With stored data on land, water, crops, yields equipment and other variables, the machine will be able to tell a farm manager in minutes the answer to problems which would involve months of hand figuring."

Look, Ma, no farmers! So you see if an office worker would escape from the whirl and grind of automation the farm will offer no refuge. He might just as well stay home or more to the office.

We wonder when sportsmen will turn to computers to ascertain the best fishing spots, the kind of bait that will be sure fire, and the weight of the catch they can expect to make.

As far as is known to this department one can still find peace and quiet at a fishing or hunting camp if one stays out of the bar or wherever they have the juke box but hurry -- or progress will catch up with you.

30 YEARS WITH THE FSLIC

THE F.S.L.I.C. STORY — "SILENT PARTNER" IN A $110 BILLION BUSINESS

The Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation was launched 30 years ago to rebuild public confidence in financial institutions. This federal government agency has become a remarkable example of a successful partnership between government and private business.

The agency's primary objection was admittedly short-term; to help "put out the fire." It's justification for existence was to provide a government guarantee of savings accounts. This guarantee of accounts would bring substantial funds back into the savings and loan associations, thus stimulating home building and creating badly needed jobs. There was little time to think about the agency's long-term effects that are well known now.

Savings and loan leaders credit the insurance corporation with playing a key role in the business's exceptional growth. The savings and loan industry today is a $110 billion business, and the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation has played a key role in this exceptional growth.

Financial Federal Savings is proud of the fact it became one of the first savings and loan associations to become a member of the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, approximately 30 years ago. Our federal charter, combined with 1. membership in the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation; 2. membership in the Federal Home Loan Bank; 3. plus 40 years of experience, has made Financial Federal Savings one of the strongest and soundest financial institutions in the Middle West.

Goldwater Speaks At Joliet Oct. 3

Republican Presidential candidate Barry M. Goldwater will deliver a campaign address in Joliet Saturday, Oct. 3 from a platform at the north-east corner of the Courthouse square.

The talk will be made following Senator Goldwater's arrival by Rock Island Railroad train at Union Station at approximately 4:30 p.m.

Thomas Feehan, Republican county chairman, said that arrangements were completed through the Illinois Republic State Central Committee.

Senator Goldwater will be accompanied by Mrs. Goldwater.

Also in the official party arriving at Union Station from LaSalle, will be gubernatorial candidate Charles H. Percy and U. S. Senator Everett M. Dirksen.

"With the official party leaving the train and moving to the Courthouse square, we will be able to make arrangements for a much larger crowd to see and hear Senator Goldwater," said Feehan.

Following Senator Goldwater's talk, the campaign party, including Senator Dirksen and Percy, will leave Joliet in a motor caravan for Wheaton where Sen. Goldwater will speak at an evening meeting.

Reavis Stops Sandburg Eagles 13-0 Saturday

BY DOUG CONNELL

The Carl Sandburg Eagles will go into Saturday's action with Lincolnway ready to avenge their 13-0 defeat by Reavis last weekend. Two touchdowns and an extra point by halfback Bill Wall gave the Reavis Rams the win.

The sophomore Eagles, who had not beaten Reavis in the last eight years, fought the Rams to a scoreless tie.

The first score of the varsity game came at 4:45 of the second quarter as Wall plunged over from the 5 yard line. Sound strategy and a powerful Reavis drive enabled the Rams to score again two minutes later as Wall ran for a 15 yard touchdown, and then made the plunge for the extra point.

The first touchdown was the result of a costly Eagle fumble on their own 21 yard line. Two plays later Reavis was enjoying a 6-0 lead. The extra point attempt was stopped when Reavis fumbled in their own backfield.

Ram strategy fooled the Eagles on the kickoff. An on-side kick was recovered by Reavis on the Sandburg 45 yard line. Nine plays and 3 first down later, Wall scored from the 15 yard line to give Reavis a 13-0 win.

The Eagles will face the Knights of Lincolnway in a road contest Saturday. Game time is 2 p.m. for the varsity action and 12:15 p.m. for the sophomore game.

Extension Service Is Observing 50th Year

The Cooperative Extension Service of the nation's 50 land-grant universities and colleges this year celebrates its 50th anniversary. It is a branch of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and is supported by tax funds.

There are around 11,000 county extension agents. These specially trained men and women work with 4-H Club members in every state and county. There are 94,000 clubs with a membership of two and a quarter million boys and girls from rural, suburban and city families. More than 425,000 volunteer leaders supervise club work locally.

Fifty years ago 4-H had barely gotten off the ground. Participation was spotty. Sponsored programs were still a dream of the founders.

Agricultural extension agents were showing young farmers how to grow better corn for higher yields. They encouraged the youngsters to raise a pig to eat the corn. The fattened hog eventually reached the Sunday dinner table.

Girls raised pigs, too, but for the most part they grew and canned tomatoes. The end product also was added to the family food supply.

The whole idea behind this unique service was to teach the children so they could prove to their parents that there were "better ways" to get the job done. So was born the 4-H slogan to: "Make the Best Better."

And right behind the Extension Service came the business men to offer encouragement and financial support to the 4-H Club efforts. They offered funds for educational material, awards, recognition events, and when called upon, provided technical assistance.

As the number of head-head - heart - hands - and health youth increased, so did the support of private enterprise. As the times and needs changed, industry, extension and the National 4-H Service Committee cooperated in developing new programs.

Among the 4-H backers for more than 20 consecutive years are: Armour and Company; Santa Fe Railway; Burlington Railroad; Milwaukee Railroad; Chicago & North Western Railway; Coats & Clark; Conrad Hilton Hotel; Cudahy Packing Company; Firestone; Illinois Central Railroad; International Harvester; Kerr Glass Manufacturing; Livestock Conservation Incorporated; Montgomery Ward; Sears-Roebuck Foundation; Westinghouse Educational Foundation; Wilson & Co.; Standard Oil (Ohio); General Motors; American Oil Foundation.

Others include: Eastman Kodak; John Deere; General Foods; Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation; Ralston Purina.

Today 4-H'ers can learn about things such as electronics; scientific raising and care of farm animals; proper operation and maintenance of farm machinery, including the family auto; adequate measures to insure good health and safety; horticulture; entomology; photography; nutrition; buying or making apparel.

There are more than 45 different project areas available to boys and girls. Approximately 55 business firms and foundations sponsor these programs or provide educational assistance.

ICRR Gives 4-H Grant

An Illinois 4-H Club member will receive an educational grant provided for the 42nd year by Illinois Central Railroad.

According to the National 4-H Service Committee, the $100 award is administered through the state 4-H Club office. The recipient is chosen on the basis of 4-H records submitted to the state office.

Illinois Central began its support of 4-H in 1923, reports the 4-H Service Committee. The railroad offers 18 educational grants in a six-state area served by its lines.

The grants are used in pursuit of educational objectives.

Success Of 4-H Program Attracts World Interest

The success of the 4-H program in the United States has created worldwide interest. In the past few years the 4-H plan has been adapted to more than 70 countries around the globe, and international membership has grown to more than five million young people annually.

Just a few of the countries where 4-H-type clubs are active are Denmark, Argentina, Ecuador, Germany, Honduras, Iran, Italy, Mexico, Thailand, Turkey, Chile, Brazil and Viet Nam.

The International Farm Youth Exchange program (IFYE) has helped to spread the 4-H story thruout the world. Hugh Wetzel, Illinois IFYE coordinator at the University of Illinois, points out that since 1948 the IFYE program has sent nearly 1,550 U.S. young people from 48 states to countries in Africa, Asia, Europe, Latin America, the Pacific area and the Middle East. During these years, 68 Illinois young people have gone abroad in the IFYE program.

In exchange, 1,750 young farm people from 67 foreign countries have lived with more than 20,000 farm families in the United States. About 500 Illinois families have hosted 151 of these foreign exchanges.

The 4-H Peace Corps also have given an important boost to the international 4-H program. This program was started in 1961 in Venezuela and Brazil. Since then a 4-H Peace Corps project has been established in Uruguay. Illinois now has 10 of the 120 volunteers serving in these countries. In addition, hundreds of former 4-H members are serving in other Peace Corps units around the world.

Basically, the Peace Corps teams are responsible for recruiting and training local 4-H Club leaders, helping to establish county-level 4-H projects and visiting members to give technical assistance with their project work.

Other countries that have adopted the 4-H plan follow about the same type of program as is carried on in the United States. However, some modifications have been made. One of the most interesting changes is in the 4-H symbol. Many countries have adopted a symbol similar to the 4-H clover leaf used in the United States.

In Brazil, the clover contains 4-S's, which represent Saber (to know), Sentir (to feel), Servir (to serve) and Saude (health).

Ecuador's 4-F clubs use the clover symbol with the letters signifying the Spanish words for Faith, Strength, Fertility and Happiness.

In some countries the symbol is quite different from the one used in the U. S. 4-H program. In Western Germany, for example, the symbol is a shield with three heads of grain growing out of a ring. In Germany the group is called the Rural Youth Advisory Service.

In Venezuela the symbol is five V's set on a shield. One "V" stands for Venezuela; the others are for Verdad (truth), Verguenza (dignity), Valor and Vigor.

4-H Club Program In State Changing Image

4-H Clubs started in Illinois as pig and corn clubs for boys and canning and sewing clubs for girls. Today, nearly 50 years later, 4-H work covers many phases of life emphasizing the personal development of young people.

According to R.O. Lyon, state 4-H Club leader at the University of Illinois, boys and girls projects were originally designed to improve agricultural and home-making practices in the state. Naturally, during the early years, the 4-H program strongly stressed the traditional projects acceptable to rural boys and girls.

As the Illinois 4-H program has shifted in the direction of emphasizing personal development, Lyon says city people have asked for this program for their children. Although rural boys and girls are still a target group, nearly half of the present 76,000 4-H members in Illinois have suburban or urban addresses. More than 1,800 boys and girls in the heart of Chicago now belong to 4-H Clubs.

Fast-growing 4-H programs in urban areas include automotive care and safety, creative crafts, electricity, photography, flower gardening, landscaping or home grounds improvement, entomology, clothing, room improvement and foods and nutrition.

Club leaders are strengthening these programs by placing added emphasis on leadership development, public speaking, community improvement and social and physical development.

The present Illinois 4-H Club program has a 10-fold objective. Its aims recognize such concerns as helping young people to develop leadership talents and abilities, recognize the value of research and learn the decision-making processes.

Club work is also designed to help young people understand how agriculture and home economics contribute to the economy and human welfare and to explore career opportunities and continue needed education and practice healthful living and constructive use of leisure time.

4-H work celebrates its 50th anniversary this week, National 4-H Club Week. In 1914, when the Smith-Lever Act authorized the Cooperative Extension Service in Agriculture and Home Economics, the same federal legislation provided funds for 4-H Club work.

Safety Is Important 4-H Study

Each year thousands of boys and girls in Illinois become especially safety conscious thru the 4-H safety activity.

In this educational activity, members concentrate on various phases of personal, home and community safety. This study supplements the on-going emphasis on safety thruout all club work and broadens individuals' understanding of the cause and prevention of accidents and other hazards to people and property.

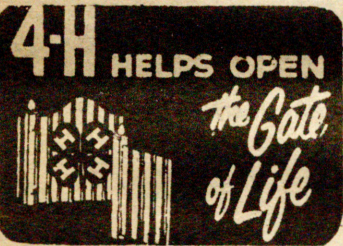

Arlene Wolfram, state 4-H Club specialist at the University of Illinois, explains that beginners carrying the 4-H safety activity start with a "Hazard Hunt" of home and surrounding property. Members look for unsafe places and practices and then correct them. Completing this hunt involves the cooperation of the entire family.

Aside from working on the safety activity as individuals, 4-H'ers cooperate with other groups to make the community a safer place. For example, club members have helped with "clear the corner" campaigns to make country crossroads safe. They have also helped with automobile and bicycle check lanes and programs on civil defense, fire prevention and water safety.

Safety also becomes part of many 4-H projects. Safe practices are an integral part of such projects as food preparation, use of electrical appliances, livestock, tractor and automotive. This past year, safe use of chemicals and poison-proofing the home have received special attention.

The study of safety is an important part of the citizenship training received by 4-H members, says Miss Wolfram.

4-H Work Often Opens Doors To Opportunity For Members

Increasingly, the Illinois 4-H program is giving club members opportunities to explore careers available to young people after high school.

According to R.O. Lyon, state 4-H Club leader at the University of Illinois, many field trips give 4-H members a chance to see men and women on the job. These trips enlarge the members' horizons and show them many ways of making a living.

County extension advisers and club leaders take members to local business firms

4-H Members

Proud Of Dog Care Projects

The ears of almost 25,000 4-H Club members across the country are sensitively attuned to the "rrruff, rrruff" of their canine friends.

The 4-H Dog Care and Training awards program, now in its sixth year, is attracting a great many urban youngsters and those in rural areas as well, according to the National 4-H Service Committee. It is sponsored by the Ralston Purina Company.

Obedience training is taught, and the young dog handlers soon realize that the animal is an individual. As one 4-H'er put it:

"Each dog is different. Some are shy and need coaxing. Others are ready to go and need stricter discipline. Whatever the dog is like, success only comes from hard work and plenty of praise."

Members readily accept the responsibility of owning a dog as they learn proper care and feeding of the animal, club leaders observed. They like to show their pets and demonstrate best methods of grooming and training.

One girl trained dogs for the blind. "You can make training a game instead of work," she declared. "The key to successful training is first to win your dog's confidence."

"At times I felt like giving up," she said, "but when I thought about some blind youngster waiting for a dog, I had to keep on working."

Some 4-H members have helped to finance a college education by raising and selling pedigreed puppies. Also, careers in veterinary medicine or other fields of work with animals have resulted from experiences in a 4-H dog project.

Each year outstanding club members are honored and receive awards from Ralston Purina. The 4-H'er completing the best dog project in the state will get an engraved wrist watch, and will be eligible for one of 10 trips offered national winners to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago the week after Thanksgiving. Up to four members in the country can win medals.

All award recipients are selected by the Cooperative Extension Service which supervises the program.

and other institutions and organizations. Regional livestock marketing tours show participants many businesses involved in handling, transporting, financing and processing meat animals. The state Dairy Tour, Room Improvement Tour, Electric Trip and Conservation Camp emphasize a variety of career possibilities for boys and girls. So do the National Safety Congress, 4-H Club Congress and Poultry Fact-Finding Conference.

The annual State 4-H Club

Week at the University of Illinois also provides the opportunity for concentrated study of career opportunities available to young people after high school. During this year's event, held in June, some 1,500 4-H'ers took advantage of workshops and tours that highlighted a variety of careers.

A great variety of 4-H projects provide opportunities for members to develop hobbies that may lead to careers. Working with livestock projects has started many a young man on a career as a livestock breeder. Experience in livestock judging has led other young men into careers as herds-men and livestock judges. Participation in 4-H demonstrations has started young women on careers as home service representatives for utility companies or in some other phase of home economics.

Recently several young women with experience in the flower-arranging program have been given special training and employment in the florist trade. Photography, entomology, home grounds improvement and wildlife conservation may also lead toward a hobby interest or a career.

Lyon also points out that a 4-H career exploration booklet will help members examine their own interests and strengths and estimate their adaptability to certain careers. The booklet includes a guide for seeking information about prospective careers.

Career exploration programs in 4-H Club work aim to acquaint members with a wide variety of careers requiring college and university degrees. But the programs also provide as much insight as possible into careers that require vocational or other special training without a college degree.

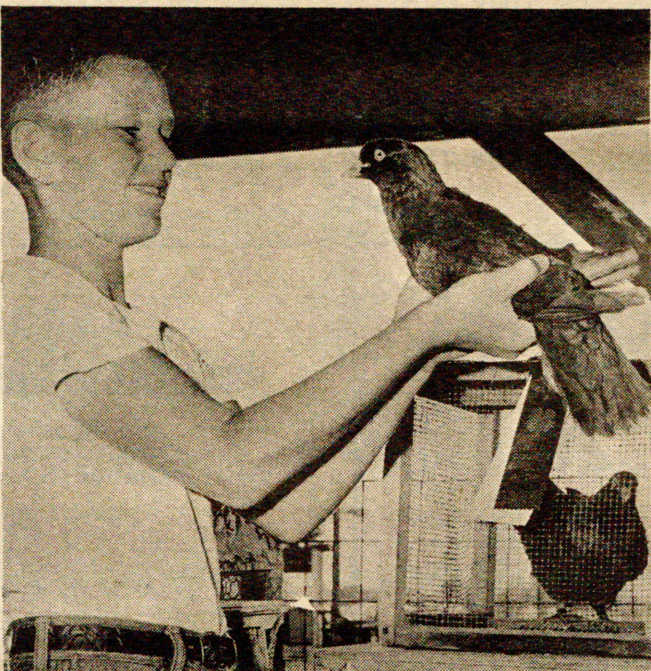

The 4-H Club study of career opportunities is designed to supplement home and school experiences. In this program local clubs work closely with school principals and guidance counselors.

TOP POULTRY -- Pen of pullets belonging to Otto Heisner, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Heisner, Frankfort, were blue ribbon winners. Heisner has been a member of the Town Hall Club for seven years. His projects were dairy products and crops.

WINNING DESIGN -- This mosaic is the work of Kathy Scent, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Scent, 608 James, Plainfield. A member of the Guided Misses, she likes sewing, mosaics, and flower arranging. She is a fourth year 4-H'er.

BLUE RIBBON PIGEON -- Proud owner of a Red Carneau pigeon is Frank E. Rink, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Rink, Braidwood. He has been a 4-H member for five years and also had a beef project with an Aberdeen Angus cow and calf.

"Learning For Living" Is Theme Of 4-H Week

National 4-H Club Week is being observed this week, Sept. 26 - Oct. 3.

The theme is "4-H: Learning for Living."

About 2,224,500 boys and girls in town and country are sharing the observance coast to coast. The head-heart-hands-health youth, 10 to 21 years old, belong to nearly 94,700 local clubs in all 50 states and Puerto Rico.

This year's observance is especially important because it recognizes the 50th anniversary of the Cooperative Extension Service-of which the 4-H youth program is a significant part.

Since 1914, when the Smith - Lever Act authorized extension and federal legislation first helped finance and conduct 4-H club work, about 22,830,400 different young people have participated in the "learn by doing" program - now spread far beyond rural areas. Latest figures show 48 percent of members coming from farm homes, 31 per cent from rural non-farm homes, and 21 percent coming from urban homes. All backgrounds, and levels of living, are represented.

Aims of National 4-H club week in 1964 are to: help celebrate the golden anniversary of the Cooperative Extension Service, and explain the integral place 4-H occupies in it.

Also, influence more young people to join or form 4-H clubs; emphasize career exploration and the value of wise vocational choice; encourage capable, youth-minded men and women to become volunteer 4-H leaders.

Also, increase public understanding of 4-H aims and methods, and expand support for year - round activities, honor 4-H friends locally and nationally, and express appreciation for their assistance.

Local club plans include occasions where club members, 4-H alumni and volunteer leaders will be guests and speakers. Civic and service clubs, farm organizations, schools and churches, and other groups will arrange for talks by 4-H'ers and former 4-H'ers, and programs shared by parents, leaders, extension agents, and others who help with club work. Newspapers, and radio and television stations, will carry 4-H news and features. Exhibits illustrating typical activities will be prepared and displayed in store windows and other prominent places.

In April, six representative club members spent a week in Washington and New York City initiating the annual 4-H "Report to the Nation." These reporters met with national leaders in government, business, industry and educational fields. They also appeared on radio and television programs and in press interviews to talk about 4-H accomplishments of the past year and about future plans. What these young people did on a national scale is now being easily and effectively adapted in many states, counties and communities. For example local 4-H'ers will report during Club Week to governors, top county officials, town mayors and neighborhood leaders.

Popular 4-H projects, meeting youth needs today in both rural and suburban areas, include career exploration, automotive care and safety, electrification, health and nutrition, personality improvement, home beautification, horsemanship, entomology, money management, leadership and citizenship development. Number of projects 4-H'ers may carry ranges from about 25 in some states to about 95 in others.

The club program is a part of the national educational system of Cooperative Extension work in which the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the State land-grant colleges, and the counties share. The Federal Extension Service gives national leadership and the State Extension Services give state leadership to the program. About 362,400 men and women serve as unpaid volunteer local leaders, and are assisted by about 130,981 older club boys and girls called junior leaders.

Two non-government organizations helping to further 4-H are the National 4-H Club Foundation, 7100 Connecticut ave., Washington, D.C., 20015, and the National 4-H Service Committee, 59 East Van Buren st., Chicago, Ill. 60600.

The National Committee devotes its time to the welfare of 4-H members, volunteer club leaders, county Extension agents, donors and other 4-H friends. It enlists the aid of business and civic organizations to provide 4-H awards and educational materials, and coordinates the efforts of donors in line with Extension policies and needs. It issues a national 4-H magazine, holds each year's 4-H Club Congress, operates a 4-H supply service, and carries on a year-round information program.

The National 4-H Club Foundation directs private resources to such educational "Service to Youth" programs as the 4-H Citizenship Short Courses, 4-H Leader Forums and the Human Development - Human Relations Workshop. It conducts the International Farm Youth Exchange, now in its 16th year; and the 4-H Peace Corps projects. Studies are now being completed on 4-H services for urban youth. The National 4-H Center in the nation's capital is a "working memorial to the 4-H program," and houses the 4-H Foundation.

Scores of national and local leaders in business, industry, education, and other fields give valued support to the 4-H program in every state and county throughout the country.

Public - spirited firms, foundations, organizations and private individuals generously give money -- supplementing tax funds -- for 4-H awards, incentives to greater achievement, leader training, and important contributions of 4-H friends each year promote 4-H in America and around the world.

The 4-H plan has now been adapted so that 4-H clubs or similar groups exist in about 75 other countries.

More information on 4-H, or National 4-H week is available from any county Extension Service office, the Cooperative Extension Service of any State land-grant college, and the Federal Extension Service.

N. L. Riding Club Gymkhana Is Oct. 18

The New Lenox Riding Club was organized about 17 years ago. The purpose of the club is to stimulate and maintain interest in saddle and harness horses, good fellowship and to work together for the common advantage of all who participate in the horse game.

Meetings are held every third Sunday of each month, with the banquet and election of officers held in April of each year.

The club's 11th Gymkhana horse show is to be held Oct. 18 (rain date, Oct. 25). The club is operated on the proceeds of the Gymkhana's.

The New Lenox Riding Club puts on a 4-H benefit horse show in the spring with the entire net proceeds going to the 4-H grounds. With the money from all 4-H benefit shows and also added donations from the club's treasury, the club has been able to build the outdoor show ring, install the well, build picnic tables, install show ring lights, build the announcers stand, furnished the bleachers, bought 400 chairs including some tables for the Home Ec. building and help clean up the grounds and keep it in shape.

4-H Club Membership Great Youth Builder

4-H Club membership, open to all boys and girls, offers many opportunities thru participation in the educational and citizenship building program according to Webster Bay, Will county assistant farm adviser.

Members, meeting in their own 4-H Club, are able to develop as individuals while participating in a group.

4-H'ers plan and carry out their own program under the guidance of volunteer adult leaders. They elect their own officers whose responsibility it is to see that the club operates properly.

An important part of 4-H work is the opportunity for boys and girls to learn to work for themselves and their communities.

In individual work, members develop self reliance and learn new skills by enrolling in one or more projects. Bay reports that 4-H members have a choice of nearly 50 projects ranging from electricity to livestock.

Thru group work, members learn citizenship, leadership and cooperation.

Emphasis is placed on finishing started projects.

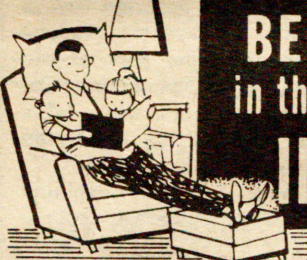

Teen-age boys and girls are invited to join a 4-H Club during National 4-H Club Week, Sept. 26 - Oct. 3. Any boy or girl between 10 and 19 years may join. Boys and girls who are presently 9 years old, but will be 10 years old by July 1, 1965, are eligible for 1964-65 project year membership.

If there is no 4-H Club in the community, parents or prospective members may call the Farm Adviser's office, 727-1173, Joliet, or the home Adviser's office, 723-2265, Joliet, or write or stop by the County Extension offices at 100 Manhattan road in Joliet.

SKILL TEST -- Inspectors watch Floyd Schultz, 18, drive a tractor pulling a spreader. He is the son of Mrs. Alvin Schultz, Rt. 2, Plainfield, and a 1964 graduate of Lockport High School. A 4-H'er for four years, he has worked with hay, corn, oats, soybeans and wheat.

Marketing Days Provide 4-H'ers Practical Lesson

Illinois 4-H Marketing Days offer 4-H members a realistic educational approach to the study of livestock marketing.

Two beef marketing days are held, one at East St. Louis and one at Peoria, and a lamb marketing day at East St. Louis. Furthermore, with 12 lamb pools scattered throughout Illinois, members can sell their lambs at the peak marketing season.

According to G. L. Daigh, state 4-H Club specialist at the University of Illinois, these marketing days offer participants a sounder insight into marketing practices than do 4-H livestock auctions. These auctions often cause members and parents to pay excessive prices for steer calves. When sold, the Grand Champion and Reserve Grand Champion steers generally bring excessive prices, while the rest of the calves bring market price or less. The result is that one or two members capture the top money at the expense of their fellow members.

At these marketing days, all members have a fair chance to get the best possible market price. Steers consigned for sale are penned by breeds in lots of about the same grade and weight. Before sale, the animals are fed and watered to gain back some of the weight lost in transportation and handling. As the steers are sold, members can observe the regular selling and buying procedures at a terminal market.

Special educational features supplement the program at each of the beef marketing days. At the National Stock Yards, East St. Louis, the program includes detailed carcass evaluation presented by livestock specialists at the Universities of Illinois and Missouri.

At the Union Stock Yards in Peoria, University of Illinois livestock specialists show and discuss grades of cattle and marketing procedures, followed by a tour through a packing plant.

The lamb marketing day is similar to the beef day. The program includes lamb grading by livestock extension specialists and an educational feature. When sold thru pools set up by county extension advisers and breeders, lambs command a better price than if a few head were sold independently.

GLAD ARRANGEMENT -- Gerry Brady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brady, Rt. 3, Lockport, won a ribbon for her arrangement of gladioli. A member of the Guided Misses, she grew the flowers and had projects in foods, clothing, and handcrafts. She has belonged to 4-H for four years.

Adults Guide Local 4-H Agriculture Clubs

The 4-H program operates on a local club level. Providing leadership for 4-H members in local clubs are adult 4-H leaders. These leaders are men and women volunteering their time and experience for the youngsters. A list of 4-H agricultural clubs within Will County and their leaders follows:

Industry, Business Aid 4 H

Each year many public-spirited businesses and industries help to support the state's 4-H program by contributing to the Illinois 4-H Foundation.

According to F.H. Mynard, executive secretary for the Foundation, contributions to the organization, a not-for-profit corporation, make possible a number of awards and scholarships. The Foundation also provides the state support for the International Farm Youth Exchange program. This program is a people-to-people project whereby selected young people from the United States live and work with rural people in other countries and young people from cooperating countries come to the U.S. for a similar experience.

Funds for several statewide events, such as the 4-H Junior Leaders Conference, State 4-H Club Week and Rural Youth Winter Rally, are also handled by the Foundation. And all donations for the state camping program are deposited in the Foundation and then distributed to the various camp associations.

Mynard says that statewide sponsors use the Foundation to handle funds for special awards, leader training and other special events and activities. For example, the Illinois Farm Electrification Council earmarks its contribution for publications and awards in the 4-H electric program. The Chicago Board of Trade gives a special grain marketing award.

The work of the Foundation represents only part of the support that businesses and industries give the Illinois 4-H program.

6,000 Young People Serve As Junior Leaders In 4-H

Six thousand 4-H'ers in Illinois assume special leadership responsibility in their local clubs by serving as junior leaders.

According to Marian Jackson, state 4-H Club specialist at the University of Illinois, these young "grass-roots" leaders are important steppingstones in the 4-H Club "learn-by-doing" programs.

Junior leaders, who are generally older club members, help make local club programs run smoothly. And as these young people work, they pick up many pointers that will prepare them to be adult leaders in community life.

Adult club leaders find junior leaders helpful in many ways. They may help members plan and prepare demonstrations. They may guide 4-H Club officers, help members with records and reports or help get members' projects to the county show. Or they may assume leadership for a beginning phase of a project.

Junior leaders can help younger boys and girls have worthwhile and pleasant experiences in the 4-H program. As they help others, they also usually learn more and improve their own skills.

Once a year about 350 selected junior leaders in the state gather for special training at a week-long State 4-H Junior Leaders Conference. During this week each delegate has a chance to assume leadership in some part of the conference operation. The delegates also hear talks and discuss the principles of 4-H Club leadership.

Miss Jackson explains that 4-H members are selected to serve as junior leaders in their local clubs because they have already shown qualities of leadership. They may have been club officers or outstanding committee members. Or they may have shown some leadership ability in project work.

Being a junior leader is just one of the many ways in which the 4-H program encourages personal development of young people.

THE BIG TRAIN--If you can't run around them, run over them, that's the idea of this crew of Knights who prepare the way for Jim Markl (30) the ball carrier, on an end run. Lincoln-Way blockers are Don Ball (77), Keith Schram (22), Craig Cieply (83) and Tom Stoner (60). In the middle of all those dark jerseys is Ray Miller (50) of Rich East.

L-W Knights Lose To Rockets 13-6

BYE BYE BALL--Jim Markl (30) of the Knights tried to grab it but this Rich East defender Rick Bauch (31) just got too much in the way. Watching the ball and moving to recover it are Lincoln-Way's Tom Hamilton (20), Craig Cieply (83) and Marc Schonwise (33).

HEAD ON--It's Jim Markl (30) again driving for all he's worth into Rocket linebacker Joe Croker (21). Howard Grimes (12) has just thrown a block at the other line-backer and Keith Schram (22) listens for the crash.

BY: NORM BEEBE

Saturday afternoon in the rain and on a muddy field, the Knights of Lincoln-Way fell to the Rockets of Rich East by a score of 13-6. The Rockets scored early in the first quarter when quarterback Ken Erickson plowed through the Knights' line for 5 yards and the first 6 points of the game. The conversion attempt by Erickson was successful to make the score 7-0.

After a short drive by the Knights the Rockets once again gained possession of the ball. Ken Erickson again added 6 points to the score with a 9 yard run around end to close the quarter.

The end of the second quarter shed new light on the dim hopes of the Knights with a long drive to the Rockets' 6. Tom Hamilton, halfback for the Knights, contributed to the Knights first touchdown with a short pass to Marc Schoenwise in the end zone to make the score at the half 13-6.

In the third quarter, the Knights defense tightened up. Rick Brooks defensive guard, threw Erickson for a 25 yard loss to put the Rockets in a tough fourth down situation. The Knights once again gained possession of the ball but were unable to advance to a first down. Both teams failed to score in the third quarter.

The Knights again started a threatening drive but were unable to score.

As the whistle sounded the end of the game, the score stood Rich East 13 - Lincoln-Way 6.

Saturday, Oct. 3, Lincoln-Way will meet Carl Sandburg for their first home conference game.

DAMP BUT DETERMINED--The fans were wet, so was the field and Lincoln-Way lost to Rich East 13-6, but it did not dampen the enthusiasm of these eager football fans. Like all good fans they came prepared.

Eagle Harriers Still Building After Losses

Though the Carl Sandburg harriers gave a poor showing last week losing to Evergreen 18-37 and placing 10th in the 13 team Riverside-Brookfield Invitational, cross-country coach John Wilson looks to the future where he expects to take at least six of the next eight meets to finish the dual meet competition with a respectable 7-3 record.

The frosh-soph fared no better tying for seventh at Riverside and losing to Evergreen 19-45.

During the week sophomores John Biddle and Ed Zeman moved up from frosh-soph to fill the gap in the varsity. On frosh-soph at Riverside, Biddle and Zeman took home ribbons, winning fourth and 13th.

Part of the reason for the poor showing by the varsity at Riverside was that two men, Tim Sedgwick and Fred VonVogt, fell at the start of the race. Sedgwick was spiked and was unable to catch up to the leaders after he gained his feet.

At Riverside first man for the Eagles was Doran Harding followed by Chuck Crowhurst, VonVogt, Steve Raydon, Ted Messlein, Sedgwick and Mark Moyle. The winning team with a new record low of 33 points was Riverside.

Against Evergreen Ralph Schultz ran away with the race in 10:02. The Eagles first man was Biddle who took fifth followed by Harding and Zeman. Evergreen took eighth, but Sandburg took the next five with VonVogt, Crowhurst, Sedgwick, Raydon and Messlein.

The young Eagles were in trouble without the help of Biddle and Zeman. Freshman Bill Reeves showed the only bright spot by taking second and keeping the Eagles from being white washed.
